Randle Siddeley Limited (RSL) is an award-winning landscape architecture, construction and maintenance company. RSL was established by Randle Siddeley over 48 years ago, combining his passion for landscape design and attention to detail. RSL's Design Team specialises in designing landscapes and gardens for private residences and commercial developments all over the world. Their Construction Division often works closely with their Design Team, or with other landscape industry established and admired designers, to construct beautiful gardens and other spaces. Under Randle's imaginative guidance, the company has since become globally recognised for its high-quality and innovative designs.

They take pride in their gardens and landscapes looking established and developed from the moment they are completed. Their Maintenance Division includes a team of garden and landscape maintenance experts who work to ensure that your outdoor space continues to look immaculate. Their full-service maintenance package is tailored to suit the clients' requirements for private residences, retail, hospitality or other commercial buildings.

No monthly subscription

No monthly subscription – this is the message that customers are praising Amalock for. With their competitors now increasing monthly subscription prices, it's no wonder that Amalock are now the first choice for your video doorbell. Their devices come with a built-in 32GB SD card, so you only need to pay for the device.

From video doorbells that offer a new level of security and convenience to smart plugs that give you worldwide control over your appliances and security cameras that provide round-the-clock surveillance with crystal-clear video, Amalock transform houses into intuitive, responsive environments.

Yet, Amalock's products are not only technologically advanced but also remarkably user-friendly, catering to all age groups. This blend of sophistication and simplicity is what makes Amalock a leader in the industry. Amalock's products offer peace of mind, ensuring that your home is safe and sound, wherever you are. The integration of advanced encryption and real-time alerts means you're always in control, and your home is always protected.

In essence, Amalock isn't just selling smart-home products; they are offering a smarter, more secure and more connected way of living. With Amalock, you're not just stepping into a smart home; you're stepping into a future where your home cares for you as much as you care for it.

The next generation of electric showering

The first shower of its kind, ENVI's sleek electric unit offers six personalised profiles, providing settings to encourage sustainable showering habits by reducing water and energy usage.

Available in three on-trend finishes – black, copper and silver – and four showerhead configurations, the ENVI® allows homeowners to choose a setup that perfectly suits their preferred showering experience.

The sleek control panel boasts an easy-to-read, full-colour digital display, making it simple to adjust water temperature, set a timer and easily monitor water and energy usage.

UK-average water and energy unit costs are pre-set in the unit, and users can also adjust to their own specific unit costs – empowering them to track cost-per-shower and make habitual changes to reduce usage. The control panel also features an eco-mode, enabling users to reduce shower time by a minute at the touch of a button.

Designing your dream home swimming pool

SPATA member – centurionleisure.co.uk

A swimming pool is a luxurious addition to any home – a space to exercise and improve your health and wellbeing, and whether indoors or outdoors, it's a social space to spend time with family and friends.

Adding a swimming pool to your home is made easier by contacting the experts at SPATA, the Swimming Pool and Allied Trades Association. With over 60 years of experience, the role of the trade association is to work with companies involved in building and installing swimming pools, spa pools and wellness spaces with members working to the industry standards set out by SPATA.

You may have ideas about how your new swimming pool should look, its features and how it will improve your life – there are many things to consider. The specialist advice and assistance of a SPATA member in the design process can help you bring your ideas to life practically and cost-effectively, and streamline the project to ensure that the timescales and budgets are met with the overall assurance of quality. Plus, every member works according to the SPATA code of ethics, which adds peace of mind to your purchase decision.

Another good starting point is SPATEX, the only dedicated international spa, pool and wellness show in the UK, which is free to attend – visit spatex.co.uk to explore more.
